

BON APPÉTIT

JULY 2007

Restaurants Top Tables

The Restaurant Reporter

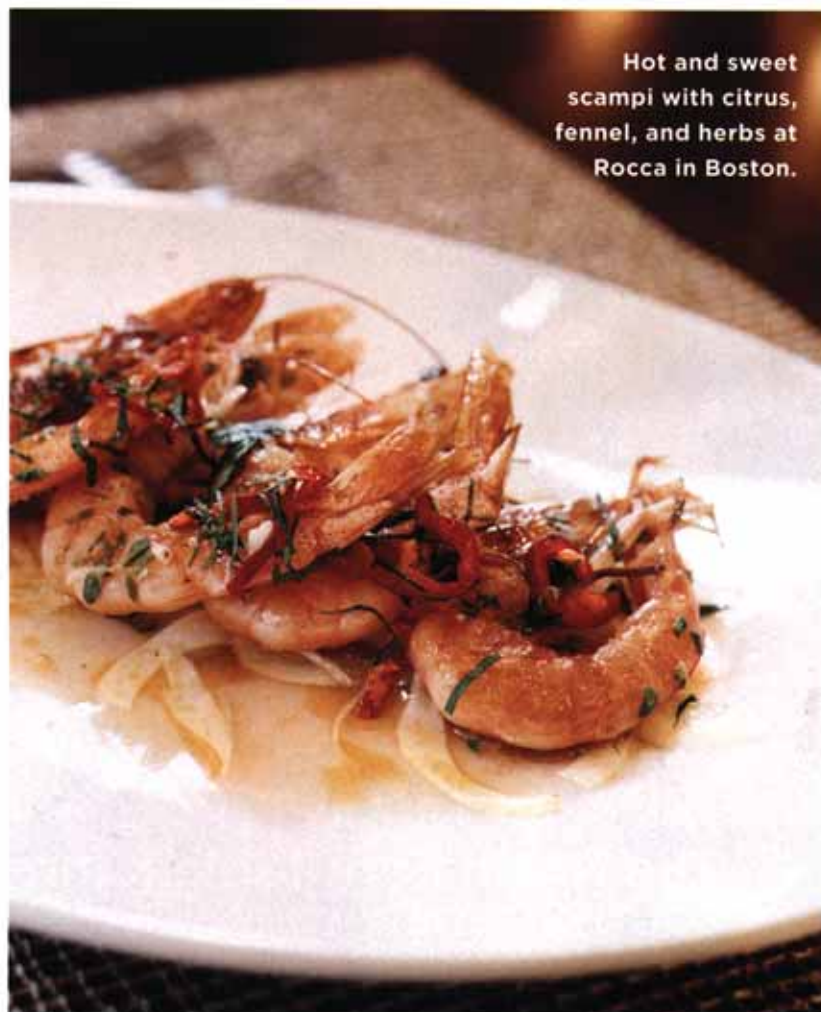

Around the country and around the world—where to go now BY ANDREW KNOWLTON

BOSTON

In the late 1980s and early 1990s, restaurateur Michela Larson launched the careers of many famous Boston chefs (Todd English and Jody Adams, to name two) with her eponymous restaurant. Larson and co-owners Gary Sullivan and Karen Haskell are trying to make history once again with ROCCA, located in a South End artist enclave. The high-ceilinged spot draws a lively crowd of neighborhood artists, gallery owners, and suits willing to make the trek from downtown.

DON'T MISS Hot and sweet scampi with citrus, fennel, and herbs.

500 Harrison Avenue; 617-451-5151; roccaboston.com

Hot and sweet scampi with citrus, fennel, and herbs at Rocca in Boston.